Benefits for the Learner

All organisations must protect their resources – as a first line manager, you have an important role to play in safeguarding the people, the property and the information of the business you work for.

This course will help you to identify the main security threats that your organisation faces. You'll learn how to analyse security through risk assessment and be shown new techniques to minimise or eliminate security risks.

Benefits for the Business

External threats to your business include property thieves, fraudsters and computer hackers, while internal threats from dishonest employees can be just as worrying.

Yet many businesses fail to realise that the price of security breaches is high – your company's reputation and brand value can be ruined in an instant by security failures. Assessing potential security risks and deciding what to do about them is an essential duty for every business.

This course will enable managers to take the valuable first step to improving security within your business – it shows how to recognize potential areas of vulnerability and explores techniques to reduce or eliminate security risk.
